

Hello!

In 2021 July I participated in an internship at Attikon University Hospital, Ophthalmology department.

I am very grateful to all the medical staff at this department for an amazing time spent there. A very kind, caring, polite, intelligent, and resourceful medical professionals work at this department. The department is very clean, the personnel is not only unbelievably friendly but also very organized.

A special thank you to retinal disease specialist Dr. Irimi Chatziralli. The doctor not only left a huge impression but also inspired me to learn and be an ophthalmologist.

I would recommend this hospital and this particular department for anyone – you will get a lot of practical and theoretical knowledge and will meet amazing people here.

Best regards,

Medical student from Lithuanian University of Health Sciences
